How important is having local public services like social care, libraries, youth clubs and sports centres in your community?

How important is having local public services like social care, libraries, youth clubs and sports centres in your community?

- Council services are disappearing because of severe cuts in the money the Westminster government gives Wales to spend
- Mid-Wales has lost 4,000 public service jobs since 2010: librarians; youth workers; school support staff; leisure centre staff; carers; highways maintenance workers; social workers; environmental health inspectors and more.
- UNISON calls for an end to the UK government's savage public spending cuts and for investment in vital local public services.
- If you agree, send a message to your MP and let them know what you think.
